

TGIF!

The closing of the exam window this evening at 6:30 marks the end of the first week of work for the 2024 session. Time for all students to kick back, relax, and recharge!

All students are invited to kick-off the weekend with the traditional GSBSU crawfish boil tonight beginning at 6:30 pm at the LSU Mini-Barn (91 Ag Center Dr, Baton Rouge, LA 70803). For those who don't necessarily find crawfish all that attractive, we'll also have jambalaya, chicken, and salad.

Our awesome student workers will be on hand to help out but please understand that they're not there as wait staff (in other words... please clean up after yourselves).

Best of luck to all!

WHEN IN REAUXM

Now that everyone's been in BR for almost a week, surely, you're all pros at reading and pronouncing the neighboring towns and streets, right? I've included a couple of examples and a cheat sheet so you can put your Cajun French to the test. Maybe some of these can count as extra credit on exams??

- Tchoupitoulas (CHOP-uh-too-lus)
- Natchitoches (NACK-ki-tish)
- Tchefuncte (chuh-FUNK-tah)
- Tangipahoa (Tan-ja-puh-ho-uh)
- Opelousas (Op-el-oo-sas)
- Ouachita (Wash-ah-taw)
- Boutte (boo-tay)
- Thibodaux (tib-uh-dough)
- Amite (ay-meet)

SATURDAY STEAK NIGHT

For anyone sticking around campus this weekend, The Faculty Club has a special dinner menu planned. Prime rib with au jus, baked potatoes, fried brussels with bacon, boudin stuffed bell peppers, battered cauliflower, and onion rings are some of the highlights. Don't panic, the pizza bar and ice cream station that you've grown accustomed to will be there as well. Oh, and I almost forgot, Beer and Wine will be on the house at this dinner too! Bon appetit!

WEEKEND ACTIVITIES

It was recently brought to my attention that "no one reads The Redstick Times," I guess I should be thanking this anonymous individual for keeping my ego in check. I've only been thinking about this since Wednesday and it's now Friday, but apparently, I've been missing out on the opportunity to say whatever I want in here since I've been unknowingly shouting into the void this whole time. Anyway, for the six of you who are reading this, if you decide to stay in BR this weekend, there's plenty for you to do. You could pay MIKE THE TIGER a visit over by the stadium, visit the STATE CAPITOL building (the tallest state capitol building in the US), tour CAPITOL PARK MUSEUM, drive up to St. Francisville to tour the famously-haunted MYRTLES PLANTATION, dine at some of the best restaurants in the Southeast such as JUBAN'S, PARRAIN'S, or DIGIULIO BROTHERS. Government Street also has several restaurants and bars worth checking out like MID CITY BEER GARDEN.

If you plan to go to NoLa and stay overnight, don't leave BR without a reservation. It would also be a good idea to stay in groups in well-traveled areas such as the FRENCH QUARTER, ST. CHARLES AVENUE, MAGAZINE STREET, etc. The buddy system is always a good idea in New Orleans, especially if you take a trip anywhere near Bourbon (don't ask us how we know, just trust us!)

Whatever you decide to do, we hope you have a wonderful and safe weekend. See you Sunday evening!

THE POOP SHEET

DECEMBER 1966

CHRISTMAS EXTRA!!! CHRISTMAS EXTRA!!!

Orrin Swayze, our guiding light since the School of Banking opened its doors in 1950, wants the world to know that he will be officially retiring as Executive VP at his bank (First National, Jackson, Miss.) effective Jan 1. He doesn't plan to go out quietly, such an action would not be in keeping with his characteristics. He has made it known that he will continue to be fully active at our (his) school for a three-year period, after which it is his plan to phase himself out.

The school has taken a long and serious look at its "management succession" problem. In order to get qualified people, all of whom are busy in their own endeavors, some modifications of past policies are underway. Some of our executive and administrative leaders will not be asked to commit themselves "forever" but for stated periods of service. LEST YOU FORGET, the 1967 session opens on Sunday, May 28. We suggest you don't make any other big plans for that day – or the two weeks that follow.
